GENERAL INFORMATION

It seems as if with each successive video game system, a wrestling game goes hand-in-hand. THQ has developed a title that successfully captures the flavor and excitement of the popular World Championship Wrestling League in WCW vs the World for the Sony PlayStation. All of your WCW favorites are here in a graphically-sharp, highly-playable fighting extravaganza with features that include over 50 characters (including 15 members of WCW and a number of hidden characters), Signature Moves, seven Tournament Modes, six International Leagues, and much, much more. When it comes to Pro Wrestling, it doesn't get much better than this, so lace up your boots and enter the ring to challenge some of the toughest competitors in the world!

BASIC MOVES

One of the strongest features of the game is the variety of techniques available to each player. In fact, each wrestler has the ability to perform anywhere from 30 to 40 moves. Tapping or holding the ○ button determines how strong the grapple will be—Weak, Medium, or Strong. By pressing ↑ or ↓ on the D-pad as you release the button, the wrestler will perform a different move. Try to stun the opponent, then duck behind him by pressing the R1 button; there are four different moves which can be performed. Either Tap or Hold the ○ button then release, or press ↑ as you release. As the opponent begins to wear down, go for the win with either a submission hold, a Big KO, or a pin.

SUBMISSION HOLDS

The submission holds, such as Sting's Scorpion Death Lock, incur progressive damage to the opponent. As an opponent becomes groggy, the submission hold inflicts more damage. Finally, after the opponent can not take any more pain, a bone-crunching sound effect will play, signifying victory by submission.

SPIRIT METER

The Spirit Meter gauges how much adrenaline and emotion each wrestler is fighting with. When the meter is completely white, the wrestler will flex his muscles and the meter will begin to flash. At this point, one punch will knock the opponent to the mat. To perform each wrestler's strongest move, simply hold the ○ button until the wrestler's arms reach up over the opponent, then release the button. These are usually powerful pins or submission holds. There are several ways to attain the White Flashing adrenaline rush quickly. Avoid using submission holds while punching and kicking the opponent. Also, block the opponent's attacks and taunt him often by pressing the L2 button.

MOVES LIST INFORMATION

- The * symbol next to the Basic Damage indicates a submission hold. The longer you have the opponent in the hold, the more damage it inflicts.

- All moves in Bold Italic are Pin Moves.
- Post Move: With your opponent on the mat, move into the nearest turnbuckle and press the ✕ button.
- Post Move: With your opponent standing, move into the nearest turnbuckle and press the ✕ button.
- Rope Dive: Knock your opponent out of the ring. Run toward the far ropes by pressing the △ button. After you bounce off the far ropes, hold the ○ button until you jump out of the ring.*
- Rope Jump: Knock your opponent out of the ring, move near the ropes and Tap the ○ button.*

*Not all wrestlers are able to perform this move.

HOW THE MOVES WORK

Weak Grapple: From a distance, Tap the ○ button.

Medium Grapple: From a close distance, Tap or Hold the ○ button for a second.

Strong Grapple: Hold the ○ button for 2 or 3 seconds.

For all Rear Attacks, you must be behind your opponent. Press R1 to duck behind your stunned opponent quickly.

GENERAL HINTS

- Some of the wrestlers will not lose to a submission hold, so you need to defeat them with a pin or Big

KO. Also, other wrestlers will not lose to a pin, so you should try to make them submit.

- Follow the charts, and try to cause damage to one area of your opponent, such as his shoulder area or his legs. If you notice that your wrestler's main submission hold puts pressure on the opponent's arms, for example, try to use the moves that will also cause damage to the arms so you can get a quicker victory by submission.

HIDDEN WRESTLERS

There are 8 hidden wrestlers to find in WCW vs. the World.

- Each time you defeat an Organization in the League Challenge mode, the boss of that Organization will become a playable wrestler. By defeating every Organization, you will find the 6 main bosses.

- Super Heavy—If you defeat every Organization using a Heavy Weight wrestler (indicated by HVY on character select screen), then a new Organization called Super Heavy will appear. Wrestle through this to find the seventh boss.

- Super Junior—Now you need to defeat every Organization again using a Junior Weight wrestler (indicated by a JR on character select screen). The final Organization, called Super Junior, will appear, giving you the eighth boss.

You can play as any of the hidden wrestlers in Exhibition, Elimination, Tournament, League Match, or Double Title Match. These wrestlers are found "above" or "below" the character select screen (as indicated by red arrows).

THE COMPETITORS

CHRIS BENOIT

Height: 5'10"
Weight: 218 lbs.
Signature Move: Diving Head Butt
Power Rating: 6/10

Fighting with Chris Benoit

While not the most powerful combatant in the WCW, Chris Benoit's above-average strength and speed make him a formidable force in the ring. To open a match, use techniques such as the Held Tombstone, Snap Suplex, or Double Arm DDT to wear down your foe, and then follow up with the Diving Head Butt, Reverse Face Buster, or Twist Backdrop to finish him off. To win with style, try to mix in an Avalanche Powerbomb or Top Rope Blancha, before attempting one of Benoit's many pin moves, such as the Suplex. Because of the number of pin techniques at his disposal, an opponent can sometimes be defeated quite easily if Benoit attempts a pin early in the match.

MASA HIRO CHONO

Height: 6'0"
Weight: 238 lbs.
Signature Move: STF
Power Rating: 7/10

Fighting with Masa Hiro Chono

Chono is one of the stronger characters in the game. Early on, concentrate your attacks on your opponent's shoulder area with moves such as the Water Wheel Drop, Shoulder Buster, and Double Wrist Armsault. When he is sufficiently fatigued, step-up your assault from behind with the Reverse DDT, Triple Head Butt, or Express Backdrop. From here, an Avalanche Back Drop or Suicide Dive can be used to set-up Chono's submission specialty, the STF!

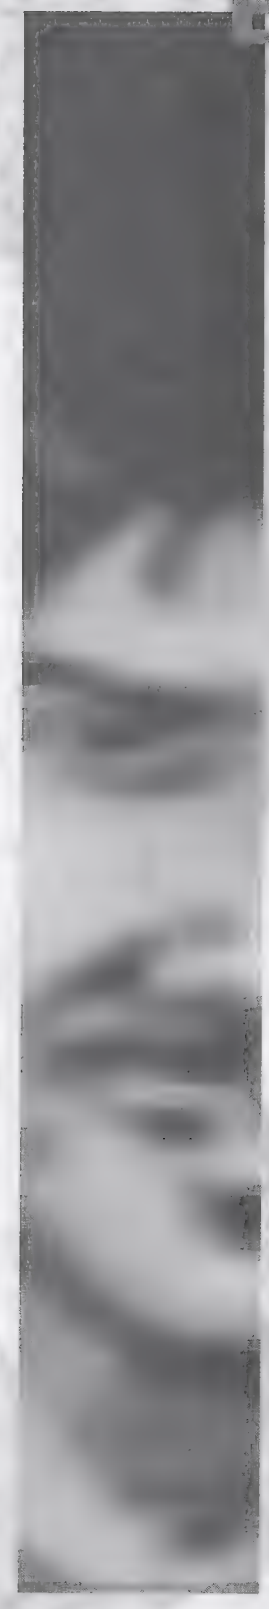
EDDY GUERRERO



Height: 5'8"
Weight: 231 lbs.
Signature Move: Frog Splash
Power Rating: 6/10

Fighting with Eddy Guerrero

Eddy possesses a number of damaging moves such as the Brainbuster, Backdrop, Reverse Backbreaker, and Pendulum Backbreaker that, when used in combination, can end a fight in a hurry with a Big KO. If it's a pin you're looking for, Eddy's best technique is the Frankensteiner, although the DJ Bomb or Tiger Suplex are nearly as effective. While the KO takes a bit more time to perform than a pin, the spectacular results are well worth the effort.

RIC FLAIR

Height: 6'1"
Weight: 245 lbs.
Signature Move: Figure Four Leg Lock
Power Rating: 7/10

Fighting with Ric Flair

Ric Flair is one of the most well-rounded competitors in WCW. He is powerful enough to beat his opponents senseless with moves such as the Pile Driver or Revolution Backdrop, and to a lesser extent, the Waist Tackle, Knee Crusher, and Manhattan Drop, but ultimate success comes only through the application of his best-finishing move, the Figure Four Leg Lock.

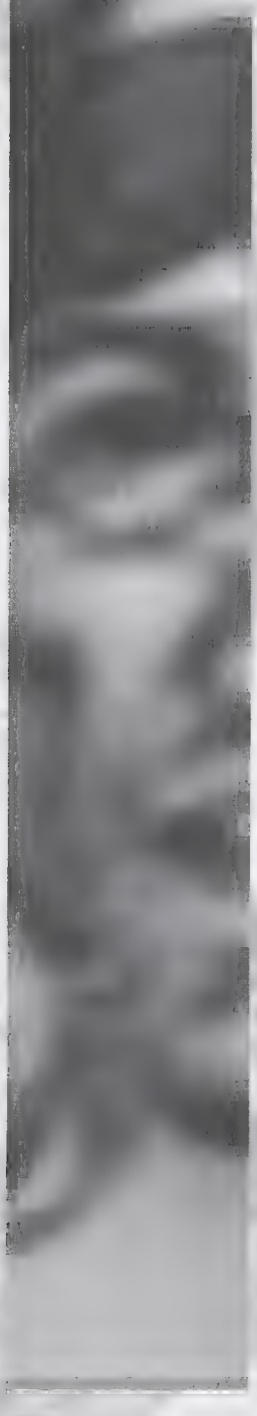
HOLLYWOOD HULK HOGAN



Height: 6'8"
Weight: 275 lbs.
Signature Move: Leg Drop
Power Rating: 9/10

Fighting with Hulk Hogan

Hogan is one of the most notorious and feared wrestlers to ever step in the ring. To best utilize his awesome power, begin with strong maneuvers such as the Power Slam or Twisting Backdrop to daze your foe, and then attempt to finish with one of his feared submission holds. The Hogan Back Breaker is Hulk's most useful finishing move, although the Choke Hold or Torture Rack work well if you are unable to attain the White Spirit.

LORD STEVEN REGAL

Height: 6'4"
Weight: 247 lbs.
Signature Move: Regal Stretch
Power Rating: 7/10

Fighting with Lord Steven Regal

Regal is a grappling master, well-schooled in the ways of pressure points. Because of this superior technique, he can often score quick victories with any of a vast number of submission moves. The Shoulder Throw, Waist Trip, and Scissors Trip can be used to put an opponent on the mat to open a match, and leave them vulnerable to a Soccer Ball Kick or Arm Bar. It is vital to concentrate your attacks on your foe's legs if you hope to successfully finish with a Regal Stretch or on his arms if the Diving Cross Arm Bar is your submission move of choice.

LEX LUGER

Height: 6'5"
Weight: 265 lbs.
Signature Move: Torture Rack
Power Rating: 9/10

Fighting with Lex Luger

Luger's powerful moves make him a dangerous opponent for any wrestler in the world. To capitalize on his strength, open a fight with a combination of maneuvers such as the Choke Slam, Dynamic DDT, and Throw German Suplex. Many times this will take the wind out of a foe's sails, and allow Luger to apply the devastating Torture Rack. However, if the opponent doesn't submit, take the opponent to the ground and continue to deliver Choke Slams or Leg Stomps before reattempting the submission.

DEAN MALENKO

Height: 5'9"
Weight: 216 lbs.
Signature Move: Man of 1,000 Moves
Power Rating: 7/10

Fighting with Dean Malenko

Malenko is a skilled competitor with a wealth of techniques for controlling a match. Take downs such as the Two Handed Tackle, Twisted Throw, or Bryant Suplex work effectively to put your opponent down quickly, and can often be followed with a pin or a submission move. The best techniques at his disposal include the Neck Jerk, Reverse Arm Bar, Head Butt Suplex, and the Tackling Arm Bar.

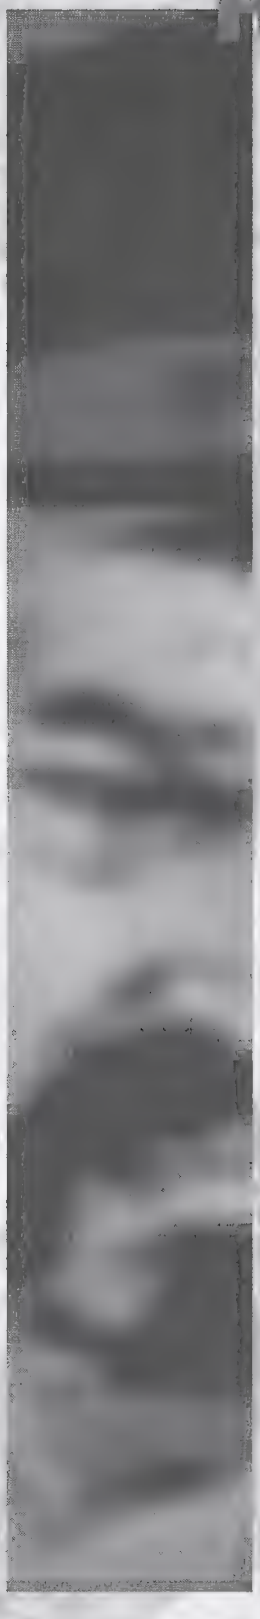
RICK STEINER



Height: 5'11"
Weight: 248 lbs.
Signature Move: Top Rope Clothesline
Power Rating: 7/10

Fighting with Rick Steiner

Rick Steiner is a master grappler with a number of powerful throws. As the match starts, use the Dragon Suplex or Power Slam to drain an opponent's strength, and then when your foe is groggy, explode with a combination of Backbreakers, Bulldog Headlocks, and Eye Gouges before applying the Boston Crab.

SCOTT STEINER

Height: 6'1"
Weight: 235 lbs.
Signature Move: Frankensteiner
Power Rating: 8/10

Fighting with Scott Steiner

Scott Steiner is a physically strong individual who specializes in pin maneuvers. While he is quite capable of scoring a KO, victory can be attained quickly with the skillful application of a Dragon Suplex or Grapple Doctor Bomb. If you find yourself in a drawn-out, lengthy battle, attempt a Frankensteiner off the ropes for a quick pin. For pesky foes, the Reverse Brainbuster and Suplex to Pile Driver techniques are useful for wearing down the opponent before a attempting pin.

STING

Height: 6'2"
Weight: 260 lbs.
Signature Move: Scorpion Death Lock
Power Rating: 8/10

Fighting with Sting

Sting is one of the most versatile and feared figures in WCW. Among the best moves to sap an opponent's strength are the Riding Punch, Face Crusher, and Scorpion Death Drop. Often times, his foe will be knocked out of the ring completely and when this occurs, give chase and pummel your enemy with a Top Rope Spring Jump or a Scorpion Splash. When you sense victory is close, finish your opponent with an Avalanche Brain Buster off the top rope and immediately apply the Scorpion Death Lock or Power Bomb.

ULTIMO DRAGON

Height: 5'7"
Weight: 175 lbs.
Signature Move: Asai Moonsault
Power Rating: 4/10

Fighting with Ultimo Dragon

Unlike many of his rivals, Ultimo Dragon must rely on speed and his high-flying acrobatic skills to be successful. Wear down a competitor with techniques such as the Tope Sisida, and signature move Asai Moonsault, before going for a pin. Ultimo possesses some of the strongest pin moves, including the Maya Crossarm Suplex and La Mahistral.
